2016	E-learning and the Academic library	Ed. Scott Rice & Margaret N. Gregor	CT 025.04 ELEA	Focusing on academic libraries and librarians who are extending the boundaries of e-learning, this collection of essays presents new ways of using information and communication technologies to create learning experiences for a variety of user communities. Contributors describe the process of project development, from determination of need, to exploration of tools, project design and user assessment.
2016	The Global Educator: leveraging technology for collaborative learning and teaching	Julie Lindsay	CT 370.116 LIND	Written by an Australian educator with broad international experience, this book explains the role of a global educator and the concept of global education, examines case studies and provides resource lists for teachers that wish to become involved in global education.
2003	Teaching in the knowledge society : education in the age of insecurity	Hargreaves, Andy	CT 371.102 HAR	"We live in a creative, dynamic knowledge society. How do we teach young people to work in it and prosper from it? How do we protect them against its frantic pace and runaway effects? ... Knowledge societies need schools to become creative and caring learning communities, and this book shows inspiring examples of such schools."
2014	Enhancing the Art &amp; Science of Teaching with Technology	Magana, Sonny and Marzano, Robert	CT 371.102 MAGA	This tome takes the basic structure of Marzano's The Art and Science of Teaching and expands it with suggestions of how to use technology in the various processes (eg "engaging students"). Some suggestions are useful, but some are a bit obvious.
2010	Connect, communicate, collaborate	O'Connell, Judy.	CT 371.33 OCON	Focuses on how school libraries and teacher librarians need to adapt to the changing digital learning environment.
2003	Technology for exceptional learners : choosing instructional tools to meet students' needs	Belson, Sarah Irvine	CT 371.334 BEL	Focuses on special needs students and gives a good overview of the needs of students in each category (eg students with communication disorders.) Some of the technology and links may be dated but there is sufficient quality information to render this book still a useful resource.
2005	Using technology in teaching	Clyde, William and Delohery, Andrew .	CT 371.334 CLY	With CD-ROM. This volume gives practical suggestions for teachers as to how to use technology in the classroom and beyond to enhance their teaching.
